

What do you hope The Catatonia Foundation can accomplish?

Jonathan Rogers:

I hope The Catatonia Foundation can accomplish—every doctor trained around the world to be competent at diagnosing and starting treatment for catatonia. I hope The Catatonia Foundation can upskill all of us in knowing more about catatonia.

I hope The Catatonia Foundation can serve as a network so that clinicians who need specialist advice about patients for catatonia know where to go. I hope that one day The Catatonia Foundation will be in a position to fund the kind of research we need to understand the causes of catatonia and come up with better treatments. And I hope that crucially, The Catatonia Foundation will be able to support families and patients who have or have had catatonia in their journey towards recovery.
