

Can you explain some of the complications that interfere with treatment?

Dr. Cuevas:

Some of the complications could be to be in a catatonic state, which involves parental nutrition. It could be like pneumonia. Also, there could be complications because of thrombosis.

More or less, those are the most frequent complications that we can find.